

Meet Colleen's Bio

Colleen Howe is the Owner and CEO of C. Howe 2Go Services, a virtual administrative business consulting company dedicated to helping entrepreneurs, startups, and small businesses build strong, organized foundations for success.

With more than 30 years of professional experience and over two decades of administrative business consulting, Colleen brings extensive knowledge in business administration, client relations, customer service, business development, project coordination, workflow organization, and operational support. She thrives on helping business owners transform their ideas into organized, functioning businesses by creating practical systems, improving administrative processes, and developing efficient workflows that save time and support continued growth.

Colleen understands that many entrepreneurs have passion, talent, and vision to build successful businesses but may need experienced support to organize and manage the work happening behind the scenes. Through C. Howe 2Go Services, she works alongside business owners to identify their needs, strengthen their administrative operations, and create customized solutions that complement their individual work styles and business goals.

Her goal is to help clients remain focused on serving their customers, developing new opportunities, and growing their businesses while C. Howe 2Go Services helps organize the details that keep their operations moving forward efficiently and in a timely manner.

Raised in a family of entrepreneurs, Colleen learned the importance of hard work, persistence, dedication, and exceptional customer service at an early age. Inspired by that entrepreneurial foundation, she pursued leadership opportunities in client relations, health and wellness, business administration, customer service, business development, and organizational support. Her experience across multiple industries allows her to approach each client's business with flexibility, creativity, organization, and a solutions-focused mindset.

In addition to her business leadership, Colleen is the Founder and CEO of Stepping Stone Academy Foundation \(SSAF\), a community-focused nonprofit organization guided by the motto, "Let Your Stumble Be Your Stepping Stone." Through the foundation, she has developed programs and collaborated with other organizations to support young parents, families, and children through education, encouragement, and access to valuable resources.

Her nonprofit service reflects her belief that strong communities are built by supporting both families and local businesses. Colleen is passionate about helping entrepreneurs and small-business owners create opportunities, strengthen their communities, contribute to economic development, and turn their goals into sustainable success.

At the heart of Colleen's work is one guiding principle: "Your Success Is Our Priority." She believes her clients' goals deserve personalized attention, dependable support, and genuine commitment. Their success becomes her priority because when small businesses succeed, they create opportunities that positively impact families, customers, employees, and entire communities.
